BRITISH HAMMER GATES OF CAMBRAI

WORLD RING CHARGED BY PRESTON IN HINDU CASE

U. S. Attorney Thrills Court With Story of Alleged Workings of International Group

KNEW WAR PLANS FAR IN ADVANCE

Germany Promised Aid to the Schemers Years Ago Is One of Allegations of Attorneys

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Thrilling his auditors with a tale of the inner workings of the Hindu conspiracy which has occupied the attention of his office for more than two years United States Attorney John W. Preston made his opening statement before a jury in Judge W. T. Van Fleet's court this morning.

Stripped of its legal phraseology, the United States attorney told of a knowledge alleged to have been possessed by some of the defendants in this case, of Germany's war of aggression as early as 1914; of bribery, of shipments of arms to Hindu revolutionists and of aid given them by prominent German agents. He specifically named, among others, Robert Capelle, formerly general agent of the North German Lloyd Steamship company in this city, as Germany's most prominent and active agent on the Pacific coast. Preston laid through the list of the defendants, naming former Consul Frank Bopp Dr. T. K. Chakrabarty, Heinrich Kauffman, Charles Lattendorf, J. Claude Hizar, John F. Craig, Ram Chandra and others.

The government will charge that a huge plot had its inception in the brain of Dr. Chakrabarty while he was a professor of Indian philosophy of Stanford University and that he had come to this country from India an avowed anarchist and revolutionist to further a dream of an Indian empire to be ruled by the Hindus and to create world-wide consolidation of all anarchistic bodies and make them supreme in their dominions.

CHARGES ATTEMPTS TO FORM GROUPS

The government charges in the indictment that he preached anarchy and down the line of the Gadar party, and in its first issue November 6, forecasted editorially the beginning of a new epoch in India and the displacement of the English Rajah and his rule.

"Be ready with powder and shot, for the day is near," he forecasted the advent of war between Germany and the allies and said "Germany has great sympathy for us and has promised us assistance and protection."

He forecasted the triumph of the English empire through the triumph of German arms with the aid of the Gadar party.

When he was arrested by the immigration authorities, he gave bail and fled to Switzerland. In March, 1914, passing across the border into Germany where he was the head of the Gadar party throughout the world and directed the conspiracy on the Pacific coast through Ram Chandra and others.

EXPECT TO CONNECT OTHERS WITH CASE

The indictments under which 105 defendants are named and 23 on trial in the present case contains a score of allegations of overt acts of which the government will be required to prove but one to make their case. The United States attorney asked the jury to keep constantly before them the identity of those in the courtroom and those not as yet apprehended and differentiate between them as the case proceeded and said that he expected to connect at least fifty of whose names have not as yet been mentioned with the ramifications of the huge plot.

One of the Hindu defendants Hari Singh created a mild sensation when he was asked to stand up by Preston that the jury might identify him by vehemently explaining that he was not the Hari Singh mentioned in connection with this case and had been arrested and indicted because his name was identical with that of prominent Hindu revolutionist.

All of the Hindu defendants were searched before entering the courtroom by United States marshals because of information which came from a Carnegie Ross, British con-

Sermon on Mount Taken by Police in Raid On Pacifists

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Operatives of the Department of Justice raided the headquarters of the People's Council of America in the Foxcroft building, 68 Post street, this noon and seized a quantity of manuscripts, pamphlets and other printed matter, including a number of copies of Christ's Sermon on the Mount.

The only person in the rooms at the time was William Short, vice-chairman of the council for Northern California. Short was inclined to resist the operatives until Don Rathburn showed a United States search warrant. Short maintained that the organization was not engaged in treasonable acts and assisted the operatives in gathering up the matter seized. There were several copies of speeches that have been made at different cities by speakers of the council.

The government officials would not discuss the reason for the raid.

Ask U. S. to Take Hand In Harbor

Letters Demand Federal Counsel on Oakland Waterfront Situation.

A petition that the United States intervene in the Oakland waterfront controversy has been forwarded to Washington, D. C., it was learned today. It requests Attorney General Gregory to take the matter up with the Department of Commerce with a view to having that department investigate and recommend what Oakland should do to further most efficiently the war purposes of the government.

The Harbor Protective League was not the sender of the petition, but certain individuals, according to President J. H. L'Hommedieu of the league. L'Hommedieu admitted that he knew of the sending of the letter to Attorney General Gregory but stated that he was at liberty to reveal the name of the sender.

The present tangle in the waterfront situation is set forth, is hampering government interests and may balk proper development of dockage, wharfage and warehouses needed in the war. The letter sets forth that organizations in the city are anxious to give their best efforts to the community, but that there is a frank difference of opinion as to the best course. It asks that the Department of Commerce advise the city which proposition is more desirable from the Federal viewpoint.

The new application on the part of the Woolsey interests for a lease of the entire remaining acreage in the Key Route basin city lands, and the new Union Construction Company lease controversy have brought the matter to a head. The former contemplates development of the Key Route basin as a unit along the line laid down in the recent F. M. Smith proposal. It looks to the establishment of docks and wharves, canal, road terminals and all commercial and transportation facilities possible. The Union Construction Company lease contemplates shipbuilding.

The Harbor Protective League held an informal meeting today and it was decided to hold a luncheon tomorrow to discuss the new Woolsey application.

MEET PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The four railway brotherhood presidents, accompanied by Federal Mediators W. L. Chambers and Martin A. Knapp, went into conference with President Wilson at 2:30 this afternoon. An agreement, guaranteeing no strikes during the war, or virtual conscription of the railroad workers, was expected to be the outcome of the meeting. The leaders of the employees maintain their silence concerning their plans up to the time they entered the White House.

SLAYER ON TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—The trial of Frederick Muller, ex-prize fighter charged with the murder last June of Jacob Brechtstein, a well known Oakland, was begun before Superior Judge Franklin Griffin this morning. The first witness called for the state Herman Ellis, testified that he had been on the night watch in front of the Center Athletic Club heard one shot fired and a voice cry out, "Don't, please don't!" He heard four more shots and Muller, whom he knew, came up out of the basement, placing something in his pocket.

ALLIES GET EVERY INCH OF GERMAN DEMANDS FOR PEACE

Revision of War Aims Sought in Messages Which Are Dispatched by Foreign Minister

MUNITIONS GENERAL RELIEVED OF POST

Formal Offer of Armistice to Belligerents Is Not Meant to Predict Separate Withdrawal

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 22.—"Foreign Minister" Trotsky of the Russian Bolshevik forces has sent a message to all the allies asking a revision of their war aims and threatening that if his request is not answered the Bolsheviks will consider that they are justified in making a separate peace.

A message to this effect was received here today from Haparanda. Petrograd, Nov. 22.—The Peoples commissaries today dismissed General Dukhomin, named commander-in-chief of Russian army forces by the Bolsheviks, to negotiate for an armistice. The general refused to obey and was thereupon summarily deported. Ensign Krylenko was named in his place.

Orders for arrests of all guards of counter-revolutionary generals were issued today, signed by Gullanoff, Lenné and Krylenko. All negotiations for a compromise, coalition government were definitely off today.

MUTINY IS FACED BY THE MAXIMALISTS

A majority of the government employees have refused to continue their work under the Maximalists, declaring them not proper governing forces.

Telegrams received today from the front addressed to the railway union for the municipal committee declare the Bolsheviks are on the verge of starvation. Trouble was predicted unless Russian transportation difficulties are remedied and food sent at once.

The formal offer of an armistice to all the belligerents which the Council of Peoples Commissaries of the All-Russian Workers' and Soldiers' Congress proposes to make shortly is not intended to forecast any effort toward a separate peace. On the contrary, it is declared definitely here that not only is separate peace not desired, but that the rejection of the armistice proposal by Germany, even should it be acceptable to the allies, would mean a continuation of the war by the new revolutionary army with vigor against German imperialism until the German people, "inspired by Russian democratic ideas" overthrow their rulers and demand peace.

BELIEVE EXAMPLE WILL INVOKE PEACE

Confidence is expressed here, however, that Russia's initiative will bring the desired results—if not with the allied governments, then through the insistence of the people of the allied countries who, it is predicted, will bring pressure to bear on their governments.

According to the Maximalist government's plan, an armistice would be entered upon first, and if it were successful for three months it is proposed to assemble a peace conference at which an attempt would be made to negotiate Russia's policy of a peace without annexations or indemnities and the self-determination of nations.

Death's Calvacade Is Advancing Anew Upon Stricken Hun Defense

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES BEHIND THE HINDENBURG LINE, Nov. 22.—Victorious Britain carried on today her triumphant smashing of the Hindenburg lines. Tanks, cavalry, infantry—all were closing steadily around Cambrai—the great war machines rumbling over the enemy just as the tanks first crushed the way through the German lines. The Tommies are now almost within grasp of the German depot of Cambrai as this despatch is written.

Every hour makes the British victory more gigantic in its scope, more astounding in its conception and execution. The Hindenburg line has been smashed to flinders.

In some sections of the battle front the fighting is practically in the open. British cavalry has been in action. The vast and intricate trench defenses of the Hindenburg line and its subsidiary lines have in many places been stormed and the enemy forced into defense from the open.

Literally delirious with joy, 500 citizens repatriated to France by the British stroke came back from the front today. They had been hurriedly removed from Masnières to Gouzeaucourt by the Germans and then abandoned. At Gouzeaucourt they welcomed the sweating Tommies as they streamed into the town.

With their stories and the tales wrung from the German prisoners, still dazed with surprise of the British blow, it was possible today to piece together some idea of the condition in the luxurious and—supposedly—impregnable German position of the Hindenburg line when General Byng loosed his surprise party.

Not a German had any knowledge of the attack until the tanks loomed over their heads. Then they literally "blew up" in panic. French civilians in towns just behind the lines described the officers and men as running around like children with their heads cut off.

The whole army quivered and shook with the suddenness of the thing; the great ghost-like steel monsters that battered through cement and earth and human walls were fearsome giants; the swearing, yelling fiends who followed them were gnomes who suddenly sprang to life out of the ground.

AWAKEN TO LIVING HORROR

It must have been hours before this palsy of surprise, of fear and of what almost amounted to superstitious panic that something supernatural had occurred, passed away among the Germans.

British "moppers-up" told of how men from whose heads the lethargy of sleep had hardly passed, blinking, dazedly crowded out of their dugouts; or how, uncomprehending that it was reality and not dream, they dully let great tanks crush them flat or furiously gleaming British bayonet find them a mark.

In trenches and dugouts, blankets and cots were still warm from sleepers' bodies, or breakfast tables for officers, daintily set, still smoked appetizingly. A tangle of personal belongings in line after line of dugouts showed sleepers in their bunks and on the cots had leaped to their feet in the first terror of the moment—and fled to the ghostly dawn above without hats, without blouses, without guns, almost without their senses.

Many sections of the boasted Hindenburg line came into British hands absolutely intact. The tanks had smashed great gaps. Through these the infantry poured and spread out, fan-wise, behind, taking yard after yard of the "impregnable positions" from the rear.

The correspondents were summoned to the line during the night. We stood that memorable morning in the very light before dawn, in the midst of great droves of tanks—all camouflaged and bedizened—a veritable multitude of the Things.

CALM AS A FARM—BEFORE

They were a great herd of gentle looking, stolid creatures, that seemed to browse on the grass-covered battlefield, sheltered somewhat by trees whose branches showed no nipping by shells. The scene was like some abandoned farm in the Kentucky, Blue Grass region. One could imagine the tanks either as bovine herds or as cluttered-up, dingy-looking neglected farm machinery scattered about.

It was still. Only a few shells exploded in the distance—the regular, monotonous every-morning interchange. We could now see the infinite preparations on all the gigantic front. Column after column, mass after mass of men and machines and horses and paraphernalia had slid through the oily night shadows and were lined up at that moment for the greatest of the war dramas then about to start.

Of a sudden the moment came. It was the "kick-off." Nothing but the tense moment when the ball is put into play so aptly expresses a moment. A little while—and hell broke loose. It seems almost preposterous that the Germans in a great many places on their lines did not awaken with the first snorting of the tanks as they crunched great swaths through the Boche wires. But there were countless instances where it was not until the behemoths themselves, their tongues flaming ahead, their steel bellies flattening the earth, actually came over the German trenches, that the Boche came to life.

Your German is a creature of habit. He knew it was customary for artillery to precede an attack. There was no artillery. Hence there could be no attack! No wonder he was dazed!

BYNG MAKES DISCOVERIES

Hundreds of tanks participated in the battle and once again these scaly monsters proved their worth.

There apparently could not be a British drive without inclement weather. When the British started on Tuesday morning it was fine and clear, but today's front despatches reported a cold, drizzling, incessant rain.

This is the first time in this war that any commander has been able to mass gigantic forces of men, of such lumbering monstrosities of tanks and cavalry without the enemy discovering that maneuver. It was this blindness of the German army that roused great interest here. The blindness likewise indicated that the eyes of the powerful German spy system had been likewise put out.

It seemed to be established today that the vaunted Hindenburg line was a mere papier mache bulwark against the British onslaught; that England's superiority in the air has blinded the Boche view; that the Teutonic espionage scheme can be frustrated; that the tanks are well nigh irresistible; that the Boche is a lost individual when he is surprised.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES

LINE, Nov. 22.—At some points on what used to be the Hindenburg line British troops this afternoon had penetrated more than eight miles. No late official announcement has been made of prisoners and guns taken. An estimate from numbers reported by various guard companies is that more than 10,000 Germans have been captured.

The penetration of eight miles at some points is from headquarters reports early today. By this time the indications are that the Tommies have swept on even farther than this. Seven counter-attacks have failed to stop their progress. The Germans' efforts were weak ones. All failed miserably in the victory-inspired onslaught of Byng's men. The German casualties were heavy.

Great numbers of German guns were taken. No effort has been made as yet, because of the enormity of the task, to make a detailed count of prisoners and material.

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 22.—The battle southwest of Cambrai is continuing. German headquarters announced today. The enemy, the statement declares, did not succeed in breaking through, though he gained a little ground beyond the German front line. The statement says several British tanks have been shot to pieces.

On the western bank of the River Scheldt the enemy was driven back on Anneux and Fontaine Notre Dame," declared the statement.

"On the eastern bank we forced the enemy's departure to positions south of Rumilly.

"In connection with the English attack the French strongly attacked between Craonne and Berry-au-Bac. Fighting continued throughout the day. Northwest of Suville aux Bains a French nest remained. Elsewhere the enemy was repulsed or driven back in hand-to-hand fighting."

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The village of Fontaine Notre Dame has been captured by the British in their new offensive, the war office announces. (Fontaine Notre Dame is two and three-fourths miles southwest of Cambrai, on the main road between Bapaume and Cambrai.)

The announcement follows: "Moving forward north of Cambrai yesterday evening our troops attacked and captured the village of Fontaine Notre Dame. They took a number of prisoners."

HEAVY GUNS TEAR AT BESIEGED CITY

Heavy guns are shelling Cambrai. Other reports from the front today stated that fires had been started and that the defensive works erected by the Germans in the town are being demolished.

An official statement on aviation operations says that only five German machines were seen on the Cambrai battle front. The British machines worked against no difficulties of mist and rain and eleven of them are missing.

The usefulness of Cambrai, which is the center of six railways and chief depot center for the German communications line of Central France, as a German base is done. Not only has the Hindenburg line been broken utterly, but the vital important communicating line likewise has been smashed.

Official reports today told of how in many cases the road full of it at the charge of German artillery, snatching the guns and capturing field pieces. The cavalry was credited with the capture of the village of Maroilles and Masnières.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—The Germans last night made a counter-attack on the front in an endeavor to recapture the ground won by the British in yesterday's offensive. The war office announces that the enemy was repulsed with serious losses.

GERMANY TO EXTEND ZONE TO AZORES

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 22.—Extension of the German "barred zone" for shipping to include the Azores and Greek waters, was announced in a Berlin despatch received here today.

The statement described the Azores as "containing important hostile bases for Atlantic navigation."

prised; that England's military leaders are not afraid of bold Napoleonic strokes even if they violate precedent.

The inference of British artillery did not start until the tanks were well over their first objectives. Then it came, a deluge, a molten flame, it seemed. From Lens to St. Quentin, I am told today, the British artillery speeded up to feverish violence. The multitude of tanks found it easy going. The general in command of the land leviathans had sent word to all his crews:

TO THE LETTER.
"The tank corps expects every tank to do its damndest"—and the tanks

did with full damnation to the Boches.

The ground over which they wriggled was practically flat. There were few shell holes. Mighty few of the monsters got stuck. A few were knocked out around Fiesqueres later on, when a heavy German field gun, muzzle depressed, fired point blank at a range of 150 yards.

Behind the tanks trooped the infantry, taking it easy, laughing in glee at the astonished Boches and their frenzied cries of "Kamerad" or die. Regarding staccato machine-gun fire that the more wide-awake and courageous of the enemy poured into their ranks. There were several spots where the Hindenburg line was captured without a single casualty among the British attackers.

Here and there behind the tanks and the infantry, the cavalry swept forward—sometimes later in the fighting, actually disregarding the slow-moving tanks and dashing on to swing their sabres and overwhelm the enemy.

HERE WAS THEIR CHANCE.

They had waited long years, these cavalymen, for a chance at the enemy, and they made the most of the holiday opportunity. British infantrymen who arrogantly turned up their noses in other days at the cavalymen, holding that it was the trench boys who were the real soldiers, had to revise their opinion today. They hadn't seen cavalry in action before. Nobody else had—that is, against firmly fixed trench defenses.

The cavalry carved itself a niche in the war's history by the two-days' work just passed. Today they were still carving.

Their speed gives them the edge. In several towns captured yesterday, the mounted troopers swarmed in while the Boches were lunching.

The Germans were beginning to recover from their daze today, and headquarters reported frenzied opposition at half a dozen points around Cambrai. But the suddenness of the blow and two days of tremendous sweeping gains over the Hindenburg line has immeasurably lowered the German soldier's morale. He had been told the Hindenburg line couldn't be taken. It has been taken. Perhaps he is beginning to think there may be other untrials in what his commanders tell him.

Newspaper correspondents had their thrill in the proceedings late yesterday. They were the objects of assiduous attention from German snipers at Ribecourt.

RUSSIAN MISSION IS DUE TOMORROW

Russia's commercial mission to America, composed of representatives of the new democracy with Major Stanley Washburn, former United States representative in Russia and member of the Root mission, will arrive in Oakland tomorrow morning, bringing with them Russia's message to the United States. Their object is to awaken America to the necessity of Russia in the present world struggle, and to urge this nation to aid in rehabilitating and placing on a fighting plane the former land of the Czar.

The party will consist of Lieutenant Hvoschinsky, naval attaché of the Russian legation at Washington; A. J. Sack, United States correspondent to the Petrograd newspapers; Major Washburn, who for some time was correspondent from the Russian front to the London Times, and their secretaries.

They will be received on their arrival by committees from the Chamber of Commerce and given an auto tour of Oakland, following which a luncheon will be held at the Hotel Oakland. After the luncheon the guests will speak on the Russian situation. The speaking part of the program will be thrown open to the general public.

Major Washburn will tell of the sacrifices of the Russian people in the present war, and the "inside" of the army giving in full its failings and its good points.

Sack will explain the exact meaning of the Bolshevik uprising, showing their true numerical strength as well as that of the Maximillians, and explaining how, while they control only Petrograd, they thus have control of the wires to the outside world, and are enabled to deceive the world as to their true strength.

SHIP LOSS GROWS

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Although there was a big increase in the number of British ships sunk by German submarines last week, it is believed that the losses have resulted today was amplified by the sinking of the British ship, the Albatross, a 10,000-ton liner, on the coast of France.

Signatures for the recall petition were obtained on the plea that the murderers have not had a fair and impartial trial. The issue made by the recallers themselves.

"I stand on the record of these trials and the convictions obtained by the courts," said Mr. Moore, "and I do not believe in the recall of judges. And to use the phrase of Mr. Moore, expressing the attitude of Mr. Roosevelt's mind, 'He believed he was helping to stamp out sedition.' So am I, right now."

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Although there was a big increase in the number of British ships sunk by German submarines last week, it is believed that the losses have resulted today was amplified by the sinking of the British ship, the Albatross, a 10,000-ton liner, on the coast of France.

CALL ISSUED FOR FORMING LABOR PARTY

Official call was issued today for a convention, to be attended by delegates from every labor union in the county, as the first step in the formation of a Labor Union Party with political aims, which will, in future be a factor in issues in the east bay region.

The call was issued by W. E. Castro, organizer for the American Federation of Labor, who will act as temporary chairman at the first meeting, to be held Sunday, December 2, in Gompers Hall, Eleventh and Washington streets. W. A. Spooner, secretary of the Central Labor Council, will be temporary secretary.

The first move of the new party will be a concerted attack on the anti-picketing ordinance recently passed in Oakland, the fight to be directed through a referendum, according to the tentative plans of the new organization. The idea of the party grew from plans for this fight. Some months ago Castro proposed a convention on the picketing situation to the Central Labor Council which endorsed the idea. Notice was sent to unions affiliated with the council at this time, calling for delegates, many of which have since been appointed. It was then decided to form a straight political party from the anti-picketing organization, and Castro secured endorsement for this, and went ahead with the organization of the delegates.

"This is to be different from the usual labor party in that everything will be done by the vote of the members themselves," said Castro. "For instance, in endorsing candidates, or nominating them, the delegates will meet and choose various names. These will then be submitted to a popular vote of the unions and members of the party, their decision to decide which candidates will receive official endorsement. We will nominate some candidates and endorse others."

Castro declared it unlikely that the new party would be in working order in time to take any definite part in the present recall fight, although, he declared, this would be a matter for the delegates to decide on. There would only be two days after the meeting to act, as the recall is to be held December 4.

'ROOSEVELT RIGHT' HOLDS FICKERT

Another chapter of the controversy that has raged about the endorsement by Theodore Roosevelt of District Attorney Charles M. Fickert has been written. This time the district attorney is the author, and this is the chapter he has written.

Mr. Alexander Moore, editor of the Pittsburgh Courier, has wired Fremont Older and Rev. Paul Smith, in answer to their inquiries why he requested Theodore Roosevelt to make a statement recommending Mr. Moore as district attorney.

Mr. Moore says in his wire, reported in the press, that "it was requested to me that he (Fickert) was using opposition on account of his activity in connection with the prosecution of the I. W. W. I am the wire states Colonel Roosevelt's compliance with the request was only because he believed he was helping to stamp out sedition."

Mr. Moore and Mr. Roosevelt are right. There has been no misrepresentation in the presentation of the issue. The fight against the business made by a band of anarchists and those who sympathize with them, I have felt, has been the only thing that would destroy me as they have destroyed men and women and property before.

Signatures for the recall petition were obtained on the plea that the murderers have not had a fair and impartial trial. The issue made by the recallers themselves.

"I stand on the record of these trials and the convictions obtained by the courts," said Mr. Moore, "and I do not believe in the recall of judges. BRIDGE BONDS TO BE POPULAR

The county is preparing for the issuance of $200,000 worth of the estuary bridge bonds. They are being prepared for issuance in $500 denominations, at 5 per cent, and they will constitute a first mortgage on property assessed at a valuation of $27,474,184.

"Unless the bond brokers come through with a handsome premium offer for these bonds I am in favor of selling them over the counter to our own people," said County Clerk Gross this morning. "We are in receipt of inquiries from a number of prospective buyers about their legality and the like. We know, of course, that they are entirely regular and that no flaw can be found with the issue. I think they should sell on a basis netting four and one-half percent and if we don't get such an offer from the brokers we can get it from our own people."

"We have had inquiries from a number of local people, including the Widows' and Orphans' Association of the Oakland Police Department, who are willing and anxious to take a considerable amount of them and I am sure the entire $200,000 being prepared would be taken up within a few days if the people had the opportunity to buy them."

"There is a one-half cent levy in the tax rate to provide for their redemption and the interest. The county is out of debt, this being its first bond issue, and if a safe and profitable investment has an appeal to the average person these bonds ought to go like hot cakes."

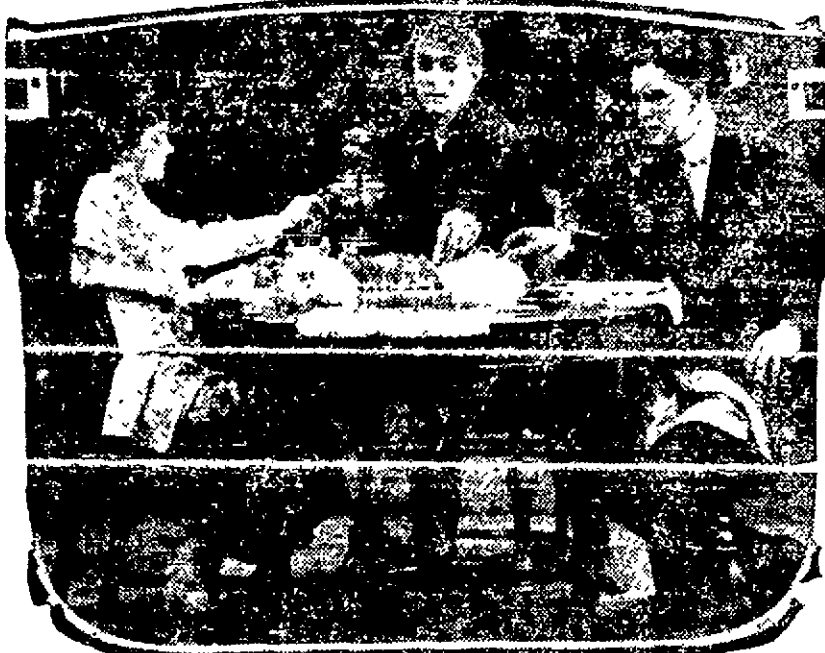

"The policy of 'letting as we enter' has kept Alameda county out of debt a unique position to be in. Alameda is one of the few counties in the West that is not loaded down with bonds. The county infirmary, tuberculosis hospital, the new hospital site and all other county institutions have been paid for out of the general levy. There was a proposition to make the bridge bonds a ten-year issue for the purpose of saving interest, but on account of the total issue proposed at the time of the recent election, when the bridge bonds were authorized, it was deemed advisable to extend the redemption period somewhat."

"As it is, the present issue of $200,000 worth will be all redeemed in five years, at the rate of 72 bonds each year."

"On this account their desirability for a popular subscription is still more greatly enhanced."

Do You Tell Fibs? See "The Fibbers" at Franklin

"The Fibbers" ESSAYNEY

George Washington never told a lie. T. R. uses the short and ugly word, but Bryant Washburn and Virginia Valli just tell "stories." Did you ever tell just a teeny-weeny white fib to your husband or your wife? Then did you get away with it? See "The Fibbers" if you want to see a beautiful young couple try to help each other that they almost drift apart. Some people are more human than others.

This play is just as human as human can be. When these little white lies are told with the best of intentions they somehow seemed to be misunderstood and lead to a veritable comedy of errors and nearly a tragedy. There are heaps of fun and a touch of pathos. See what happens to this lovable pair who cast bread upon the waters and it returned to them buttered.

On the same program is a most unusual story by Louise Winter of the ultra smart doings of the ultra smart set, produced in an ultra unique manner. The most lavish and striking production of the season, Miss Murray's "Princess Virtue," now playing at the Franklin Theater. Charming Miss Murray is well known to the original Nell Binkley girl and famous as the "lute star of Ziegfeld's New York 'Follies'."

reable success in selling bonds of small denomination over the counter in recent years, and it is believed that a popular subscription to the present issue would meet with such prompt and substantial response as to constitute a first-class advertisement for Alameda county resources.

"Keep Alameda county's debt at home!" would be a good policy, it is urged, to replace the policy of no bonded indebtedness. The supervisors may accept or reject any and all bids received, and it is considered probable that they will decide to reject all bids from outsiders and sell to the people. The interest rate will be one cent better than the Liberty Loan bonds, of which the county has subscribed a total of many millions.

DRAMA 'TODAY' IS PLAY FOR THINKERS

The elusive quality of wealth, which causes it to fit or might, women's sacrifices for the purpose of recuperation, shifts in the stock market, and the commercial value of feminine beauty measured in terms of morals, form the central theme of "Today," the wonderful film drama which is showing at the Kinema with Florence Reed of the Selznick studio in the leading role.

The playlet is a presentation of questions. The question it asks and answers are for the most part domestic. It handles life with a query and an answer, in a manner that brings conviction and ends with a dramatic denouement that brings the picture home with a punch. But it makes the viewer think. It makes the viewer look. And it spreads out questions like these for the film fan to answer.

When you thought that all was lost and a former girl friend told you of an easy way of obtaining money and beautiful clothes, would you follow her advice? If you met a charming man at this time would he attract you? And if he did would you remain true to your life partner?

PRIZES AWARDED AT BIG DOLL SHOW

Friends of the West Oakland Home are gratified at the success that is being accorded the doll show and bazaar being given in the Hotel Oakland for the benefit of the home. Patrons of the affair have much to reward their attendance, for the articles on display are such as to appeal to those desiring gifts for the coming holiday season.

Prior to the formal opening yesterday a busy group of matrons, Mrs. Granville Abbott, Mrs. Wallace Alexander and Mrs. Daniel Easterbrook, passed judgment upon the dolls, naming those for the prizes. The dolls were judged solely for the amount of work and fineness of their dress, every stitch being hand-stitched. There was a layette fit for the loveliest baby, which occupied a table of itself. Those awarded the prizes were Mrs. W. A. Lister (baby doll), Mrs. C. D. Musser and Mrs. L. W. Cunningham. Third prizes were awarded Mrs. George Hall (baby doll), and Mrs. Bruce Maiden and Miss Gertrude McFeeley.

WILL BREAK RECORDS.

Among the prize dolls was one that has presided at other charity fetes. This was the bride, dressed by one of the well-known modistes. The little one first appeared at the Baby Hospital Association fete, where she brought the handsomest sum in doll-dom. Her owner has donated her to the West Oakland home doll show, where it is expected she will again break all records in adding a goodly sum to the children's society.

By way of appreciation of the kindness shown by the boys and girls of the West Oakland home have played a prominent part in the show. Every bit of the doll furniture has been made by the boys as well as a table of toys, in the manual training department of the schools which they now attend. The girls have embroidered the finest of aprons and handkerchiefs.

GOVERNOR WILL LEAD REGIMENT FROM NEBRASKA

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 22.—The resignation of Governor Keith Neville, as chief executive of Nebraska, is today in the hands of Secretary of State Pool. The resignation is offered to take effect upon the acceptance of the Seventh Regiment, Nebraska National Guard, into the federal service. Governor Neville has already been appointed colonel of the Seventh regiment, and has accepted the appointment.

BIG BANK HAUL

FRANCISVILLE, Ind., Nov. 22.—The safe in the State Bank here was blown open early today by robbers. About $65,000 in treasury bonds, $300 of the Y. M. C. A. war fund and $3000 of the bank's funds were taken. An automobile was used by the robbers when they departed. Scozzafavor and Norman Bazeley, a duet by Phyllis Coughlin and Marcellina Schaffer, Ted Cooke and Norman Bazeley will give the dialogues.

COMMISSION MEN FOLLOW GROCERS

While local grocers are preparing to put into effect the "cost plus reasonable profit" plan urged by the food administration, and which will mean that for the first time in years grocers will make profits on the sale of eggs, butter, sugar and flour, Oakland commission men are planning to start a similar move in handling produce.

This was declared by President Walter Harris of the Commission Merchants Protective Association today. "If the government would do for us what it does for shipbuilders and others," said Harris, "it would set the food problem. We should be allowed cost and 10 per cent profit as the shipbuilder or other public utility is under government regulation. The grocer could get ready to go far as produce is concerned it would not raise the cost to the consumer. The

CHICAGO BOMB FACTORY FOUND

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Discovery of a "bomb factory" in a shack in a lonely wood less than an hour's ride from Chicago plunged federal and city authorities into a searching investigation today. Two hundred pounds of dynamite made into bombs was found in the shack. The bombs were tubular in shape and each is said to have contained enough explosive to wreck a large building.

farmer would get less, but the retail price of goods would not be affected. Crops are raised—they have to be sold—and if the government sets the price there is no argument."

The grocers will take their first step toward the new system Monday night when the grocers of the bay region will meet at Native Sons' Hall, 414 Mason street, San Francisco. Ralph I. Merritt, state food administrator, and F. B. Connolly, trade committeeman for California, Washington and Oregon, will outline the plan.

In the case of the grocers it will probably mean a raise in the retail prices of flour, eggs, butter and sugar, now merchanted at practically no profit to the retailer. These commodities form the bulk of the grocery trade. Unless the wholesalers can reduce costs to the retailer, the "profit" system must be borne by the public. The grocers, however, believe that the same system applied to wholesalers will regulate this.

POLICE GET BOYS

Leland Allen, a 17-year-old colored boy, who recently escaped from custody of the probation officers, was captured by Inspector Thomas Wood this morning at Twelfth and Franklin streets after a chase and lodged in the city prison. He is accused of stealing a large number of bicycles in Oakland and of selling them to Chinese boys in San Francisco. According to Inspector Wood, Allen admits stealing five bikes but the police say he is responsible for the disappearance of many times that number. It is possible that some of the stolen wheels will be recovered.

VON TIRPITZ
REGRETS U.S.
WAR ENTRY

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 22.—"America's entry into the war is disadvantageous to us in moral and many other ways," said Admiral von Tirpitz, former German minister of marine, in addressing a meeting of the Fatherland party at Dresden. "We ought to have reckoned with the fact that the American trust magnates were bound to desire our defeat."

I regret that we did not remain firm in the face of President Wilson's threats. If we had done so things probably would have been very different, but now we must take them as they are."

"I would point out, however, that from a military standpoint America's entry into the war is of little significance to us, because it is the tonnage question that is decisive."

The Admiral expressed regrets that Germany had been late using its "powerful economic weapon," the U-boat, but said that notwithstanding all the counter-measures which the delay gave Great Britain time to develop, Germans would be successful if they stuck to their guns.

Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. F. Jackson today replied to the charges made by Mayor Davie that he was behind the recall campaign. Dr. Jackson denied that he had had anything to do with starting the recall, and stated that he was out of the city at the time it was started, and that he did not know R. D. Van Nest, who initiated the recall. Dr. Jackson called attention to the fact that Mayor Davie, when he, Jackson, was facing a recall election, had given his personal endorsement to Dr. R. W. Higgins, his opponent, and had assisted in the recall campaign at that time.

JACKSON'S STATEMENT.

Referring to Mayor Davie's public charges against him, Dr. Jackson said: "I have been blackballed by nearly every blackguard in Oakland and I now observe that Mr. Davie has openly joined the ranks where he is perfectly at home. Simply because I am a warm personal friend of Anson B. Weeks, who is candidate for mayor at the coming recall election, Mr. Davie has seen fit to assault me. Notwithstanding the fact that I have felt that Oakland's best welfare demanded that we should have a representative council, and further notwithstanding that Mayor Davie's chamber was practically the headquarters for one of the candidates against me when I was subject to a recall I have not taken any part in this campaign. I had nothing to do with starting the recall against Mr. Davie."

Nest who filed the recall I was away from the city on my vacation during the time when the signatures against Mr. Davie were secured.

CALLS DAVIE FAILURE.

"No one however, who is as familiar as I am with the affairs of the city, can help but feel that Mr. Davie is a complete failure as a mayor. We who have had to sit in the council chamber and see him insult women, ridicule the infirmities of our citizens, observe his complete domination by Kauffman, daily listen to his blatant demagogues, see him take all sides on all questions—have seen him meekly submit to the orders of the very people whom he most vigorously assaulted when a candidate—cannot understand now it is possible for anyone in Oakland to be any longer fooled by him. I personally will not take any active part in the campaign against him. My friends when they learn that he has made me an issue in the campaign will probably not support him."

MAYOR SPEAKS AT
SANTA FE SCHOOL

Mayor John L. Davie and Commissioner W. H. Edwards spoke last night before a friendly audience that filled to overflowing the assembly room of the Santa Fe school at Fifth-Fourth and Market streets. The Commissioner in his brief twenty-minute talk confined himself to an analysis of the financial accomplishments of the administration.

"I was born in the mountains of the West," said the Mayor. "I was raised in their free air. Courage and freedom became natural to me. If there is anything I like it's a good scrap. I always love to fight for I always fight for the right. I have no trouble with decent people. I have never offended anyone except grafters. It can be said of me that there is not a crooked hair in my head. Any man who betrays the confidence of the people is a mean, contemptible cur. If I had been such a traitor, I would jump into the bay and say 'Here goes nothing.'"

I claim to know as much about municipal affairs and the methods of city administration as any man that walks the earth today. I work all day and often up to midnight. I work on Saturdays. I work two-thirds of my Sundays. There is a great deal for me to do. As my department is that of public affairs everything pertaining to the general welfare of the city, to the entertainment of distinguished visitors and so on is referred to me."

The Mayor paid his usual compliments to "the fifth street" of Oakland TRIBUNE which he said he did not read because he had better things to do. He laid his usual verbal castigations upon the shoulders of the men behind the recall, he dwelt at length upon the harbor leases and said that men who asked for an injunction to prevent the city from leasing land for shipyards where government contracts might be let are in the same class with evaders of the law.

THEFTS REPORTED

K. H. Hines of 4444 Vista Avenue, complained to the police today that he had left $200 in currency in a pocket of a suit which he sent to the cleaners and now he wants the police to assist him in recovering the money.

W. J. Hays of 1115 Jefferson street reported that his room was entered last night and $65 in coin stolen from under his pillow during his absence.

Burke who visited the home of E. S. Reed at 1232 Ninth Avenue, stole a diamond ring valued at $45.

SPY EVIDENCE IS FOUND IN HOME

Documents, letters, maps and much other data believed to have been compiled by Ernest Buch for the benefit of the German government are in possession of the Department of Justice as the result of a raid made on the Buch home, 3103 West street, by Don Rathbun and H. H. Dolly, operatives of the department. Much of the matter seized will, it is said, be of great value to the government in other investigations being made.

Neither Buch nor Martha Buch, his wife, were taken into custody last night. It was stated today that Buch was alleged to be the agent of an organization of Teuton merchants in the United States which had its headquarters in Bremen, Germany, and that he had been gathering statistics of certain manufactured products in the United States for the information of this clique. Buch and his home have been under surveillance by Officer Dolly for nearly two months, and it is understood that important raids and arrests will follow as a result of the evidence obtained.

ORPHANS ENJOY
'PLEASURE ZONE'

Joy and laughter, as expressed by 75 orphans from the West Oakland Home and the Ladies' Relief Society, enlivened the "Pleasure Zone" of the Bernard Greater Shows, which is presenting a carnival on the municipal auditorium grounds this week for the benefit of the Native Sons and Daughters Mutual Aid Association. Under the escort of County Auditor B. F. Garrison of the Native Sons' committee and W. C. Higgins of the Bernard company, the little guests had free reign at the carnival yesterday afternoon.

From the "Plea Circus" to the merry-go-round and "The Whip," the boys and girls made a complete tour of the carnival grounds and its many high class attractions. The trained monkeys appeared to appreciate the exceptional occasion and outdid themselves in trying to entertain. They climbed poles backward and pocketed candy for two hours, taking in a sufficient supply of sweets to last them for the remainder of the week.

The orphans' visit, which was the first of a series of similar events at the carnival, delighted the hundreds of grown-ups who were present. The committee has arranged to entertain more of the little folk who make their home in orphanages. Carfare is all that now stands in the way of the charges of the John Bernard Orphanage from participating in the pleasure of the Bernard shows, and the committee is endeavoring to complete the arrangements. The carnival will continue afternoon and evenings for the remainder of the week.

SWEEPS LAMOLINE

REDDING, Nov. 22.—Two hundred thousand dollars was the money estimate placed today on the damage done by a fire which swept La Moine, a lumber town 30 miles north of here, during the night. The box factory valued at $80,000, the lumber company store and hotel were all destroyed, in addition to a large store of box shooks. Five million feet of lumber was flooded when the water system was put out of commission early in the fire by the melting of connections.

The upper end of the lumber yard containing the best quality of lumber was saved. The Southern Pacific rushed a fire train from Dunsmuir and saved its depot and the home of Superintendent Elsenhah.

The fire originated in the ceiling of a store.

EXPLAINS TAXES

Details of the new income tax law and information as to proof and itemized accounts that the government will demand with all returns were outlined to grocers last night at meeting of the Retail Grocers' Association in Odd Fellows' Hall. Otto Riehl, commercial expert, was the speaker of the evening.

Riehl informed the grocers that any man having an income of over $2000 a year, if married, or $1000 a year if unmarried, was liable to taxation. He declared that a flat statement of income is not sufficient for the government, but that detailed reports of the situation, the individual is in financially, with sworn statement of its correctness, must also be given. The statements must be in the hands of the government by the first of the year. A lecture on the honey bee was given by C. I. Root.

TO ENFORCE LAW

Owners of dilapidated buildings in the city, particularly in Chinatown, will have to make extensive repairs through the enforcement of the State housing and tenement act by the city health department. A survey is being made by John Eustice, sanitary inspector, and Dr. Kirby Smith, which will result in a systematic course of procedure being adopted toward cleaning up places where rooms are let and in which there is not sufficient ventilation, or exits.

CAMPAIGN CALUMNIES.

Regardless of the issues involved in the coming recall election in Oakland and its result, one phase of the campaign has brought discredit to both sides. Without appreciable reserve, and apparently without a thought of the consequences, the campaign leaders and workers have made attacks
upon the character and reputation of individuals, business concerns and civic organizations which they cannot prove, which they have no thought of proving, and which are palpably false.
So far as the attacks of Mayor Davie and his workers upon THE TRIBUNE are concerned, they relate to alleged practices of this newspaper before it came under the present management, and therefore the present management of THE TRIBUNE has taken no notice of them. It is content with the agreeable knowledge that during the last two years no individual has had cause to complain of unjust treatment, nor any public official that he was denied a just and fair hearing in a worthy cause by THE TRIBUNE.

In the present campaign THE TRIBUNE has given equal space to both sides. The complaint from Mayor Davie seems to be that this newspaper has quoted him too fully and accurately, the accounts of his speeches being based on complete stenographic reports.

But this newspaper realizes that it would not be true to its ideals nor faithful to its patrons and the people of Oakland if it did not protest against the groundless and false attacks upon such a public-spirited and valuable civic organization as the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, and upon leaders among business and professional men whose integrity and loyal service for the city's welfare are above question. Such disgraceful acts cannot possibly help the cause of any candidate
and they greatly harm the community.

No charge against any individual or association of individuals should be made that cannot be proved. No honest man, no man worthy of public confidence, will so offend against public morals and decency. Yet we have been regaled in the recall campaign with demonstrably false charges,
cowardly innuendo and insinuation, malicious
twisting of facts and crooked interpretation of unconfirmed rumors; offenses perpetrated in a flood of coarse billingsgate and low blackguardism.

Not long ago Mayor Davie charged that the City Council had given the Chamber of Commerce
public money for the entertainment of its members.
Judging from the context of his speech, he referred to the banquet given by the city to the more distinguished delegates of the National Educational Association which met in Oakland in 1915.

The implication that any Chamber of Commerce banquet had been financed by the city was proven false by the president of the chamber, Mr. Joseph H. King, and may be further branded as a groundless calumny by reference to the city auditor.

On Tuesday Mr. J. E. Campbell, a Davie campaign speaker, said he was a member of the Chamber of Commerce and charged that the organization got $20,000 from the city treasury during the Mott administration, and that $16,000 of the public money was spent on a banquet for "some religious people."

The managing director and secretary of the chamber says that this charge is entirely without foundation, and THE TRIBUNE does not hesitate to accept Mr. Caine's word as correct. Mr. Campbell is not a member of the Chamber of Commerce, as the records show; he was dropped from the membership for non-payment of dues.

The whole organized plan to make the Chamber of Commerce an issue of the recall campaign is a dishonest and unworthy effort. The chamber is not a political organization, it takes no cognizance of political matters and it will not be dragged into politics at this time nor in the future. Mayor Davie knows this. His campaign lieutenants know it. The chamber is applying the great power of its large membership—nearly 3000 business and professional men and women—to constructive programs and community upbuilding and safeguarding.

Utterly baseless specific attacks upon such prominent citizens as Mr. A. S. Lavenson, Mr. J.
W. Garthwaite and Mr. King and others who have always been leaders in community service are equally as reprehensible as those that have been made upon the 3000 leading men and women of Oakland who constitute the Chamber of Commerce.

We are happy again to make this deserved defense of Oakland's citizens without doing so in an apologetic strain.

These disreputable and harmful tactics unfortunately are not confined exclusively to the Davie side of the recall fight. Some of the workers for the mayor's recall are tarred with the same feather.
They, too, have tried to traduce the character of respected citizens by indulging in innuendo and false inferences. In some cases whole-cloth falsehood has been perpetrated. When they have been too cowardly to make a frank, responsible statement of what was in their mind the speakers have cunningly paved the way for incorrect and unfavorable conclusions on the part of their audiences. In justice to the opposing candidates, however, it must be said that neither Mr. Dutton, Mr.
Works nor Mr. Taylor have personally indulged in these false attacks, although as much cannot be said
of some of their enthusiastic friends.

All candidates and their assistants should realize that this is a vicious practice and indicative of untrustworthiness.

There is no more contemptible creature outside the clutches of the law than he who assassinates character and spreads scandal by falsehood, in-sinnuation and anonymous statements.

AN IMPORTANT VICTORY.

Cheering news is that of the British victory in France. It comes at a time when something was welcome to convince the more weak-hearted that the debacle in Russia and the Italian retreat do not signify any depreciation in the superiority of the Allied arms and military tactics over the enemy.

It is a significant gain that the Allies have made in France. The enemy has been hurled back over a forty-mile front for a depth of five miles or more,
and thus out of 200 square miles of French territory. This strip just recovered runs from St.
Quentin to Douai, forcing the invader out of the Departments of the Somme and Pas de Calais completely and making him yield a further section of Department Nord.

Moreover, this long section of the "Hindenburg line," which the Germans were led to believe impregnable, creates heavy pressure on the enemy strongholds of St. Quentin, Cambrai and Drou-court. With the new French successes along the Ailette river, threatening Laon, and the gradual progress of the French north of Verdun, the hold of the Kaiser on French and Belgian territory gradually is become weaker and smaller. Unless he is able to rush up heavy reinforcements to temporarily delay the powerful "pushing" tactics of the French and British, or climate conditions stop operations, a large portion of the western battle-front will in a comparatively short time be shifted to German soil.

When this stage in the war arrives it will be a noteworthy event in the progress of the Allies toward victory. Fighting then will have, in addition to the physical losses inflicted, a political and psychological effect for once favorable to the Allies.

Accounts of a meeting of members of the National Woman's Party, the rump suffrage organization behind the White House pickets, held in New York City the other day, contain interesting information. Subscriptions were called for to a fund to finance the militant protests. When donations in honor of Dudley Field Malone, who recently resigned from the office of collector of the port of New York, were called for $5000 was forthcoming, one woman giving $500. But when subscriptions were asked in honor of the great suffrage victory in New York State they came in dribbles of $5 and $10. We have not been requested to conduct a Binet-Simon psychological test of the suffrage pickets, but, if we should be, certainly this demonstration of intellectual response of the pickets to two different appeals will be useful.

Oakland also made good in the campaign to raise $25,000,000 for the war work of the Young Men's Christian Association, going over her allotment
by a substantial sum—$6000 over-subscription, according to present returns. It is this spirit shown by Oakland and other cities of the country that resulted in the subscriptions of the week's campaign amounting to $50,000,000 for the nation, or $15,000,000 more than was asked for. This money will be used to good purposes and the knowledge that the work the Y. M. C. A. has outlined in connection with the war can now be carried out will be a great satisfaction to the mothers and parents and friends of the men with the colors.

The British House of Commons has unanimously decided that partial franchise should be extended to women in municipal elections. Only married women whose husbands possess the franchise and who have attained the age of thirty years, however, will be allowed to vote. This is what may be properly called provoking perversity in sticking to old ideas. Woman may vote, but her privilege is conditioned on the fact of a husband in the first place, and the qualifications of the husband in the second. In addition to these humiliations she is to be subjected also to the embarrassment of confessing her age at a period when age is a most delicate and confidential question.

In felicitating District Attorney Fickert of San Francisco in acquiring the endorsement of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt in his fight against the recall-ers, it is permissible to express the hope that Mr.
Fickert will be more successful than was Mayor
Mitchell of New York in his campaign for re-election.

NOTES and COMMENT

Colonel House is coming in for a new line of publicity. Heretofore he has been featured as being present.
Now there appears an account of the war board meeting in London, with the addenda, "Colonel House remained away."

Mayor Davie is doing his best to prove that he did not attend a banquet at the Pacific Union Club. It is possible that the club is willing for him to succeed. Though as far as the citizens of this city and all who are properly concerned in its welfare are concerned, the matter of whether he did or not has a similarity to the flowers that bloom in the spring.

The California Industrial Commission has gone right to the heart of a big question. It has decided that tips paid a waiter are a part of his salary.
In consequence the tipster has the satisfaction of knowing, when he bestows largess upon a garcon, that a state authority decrees it to be his.

Statement of the Colusa Sun that it is going to be difficult to refute:
"There are those who are not off for the wars, who are trying to keep the machinery of government at home in the proper groove. This is extremely necessary under the circumstances."

One of the most notable actions at law brought in this country for a long time is that for $2,500,000 against Mr.
Romanoff. While he was at the head of a large concern a shipping firm claims that he made a bargain with it, which was not kept. Mr. Romanoff is now in Siberia but the plaintiffs have reason to believe he has a lot of money in a New York bank.

When the law gets after an alien enemy it does not always connect, and when it does get action it is never as prompt as when the neighbors take it up. They get results forthwith, as in the South Dakota instance recently reported, where citizens forced a man who tore down and spat upon a Y.
M. C. A. poster to salute and kiss the Stars and Stripes.

The official returns show that Iowa went wet by the exceedingly slim majority of 922. Such a preponderance in a vote of 430,318 can hardly be considered as definitely settling the matter balloted upon.

This from the Santa Rosa Republican, though it would spread the light
if it would amplify its simile:
"Schmitz announces now that he will be a candidate for mayor in 1919, and the people of San Francisco have nobody to thank but themselves. They are as the sow that was washed."

Los Angeles has eliminated its mistake by a vote of 53,543 to 32,948, which is rather decisive. But Los Angeles has an anchor to windward.
The ordinance still permits the sale
of it in original condition.

The punishment that awaits the drunken automobile truck driver in San Francisco who ran over three persons and got hurt himself might properly be extended. Employers have a responsibility in this connection.

Russia asserts that she has deserted the fighting ranks. This war appears some time ago as to any assistance she was rendering the allies.
She evidently doesn't consider what is going on in that country at the present time as fighting.

The headline, "San Francisco Will Ship Cent Pieces East," is interesting.
In the light of the well-known aver-ment to the coin on this coast. It isn't that we are trying to get them out of the country, but that the San Francisco mint is turning them out in quantities that enable us to spare some.

We are not permitted to learn just how serious the latest German riots were, but they seem to indicate a vast unrest, which is kept down by the severest measures of repression.

In the south they are more summary than we are. Permit for a women's meeting to endorse the action of the White House picketers was refused by the mayor of Nashville, who added that if such a meeting was attempted it would be dispersed. The national sentiment in this matter is coming to be well defined.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

One of the striking features of the operation of the preferential ballot in the recent San Francisco election was the refusal of the majority of the voters
to express any second or third choice.
The theory of the preferential ballot
is that it will save second elections
by allowing voters to express their second choices at the first election, and that all officials will therefore be elected by the vote of a clear majority of all the electors, who have expressed either their preference or at least their second or third choice consent for their election. Just the reverse took place in San Francisco, and of all the candidates for supervisor only one received a majority over all of the first-choice votes, and only one more a majority even by adding his second and third choice votes—Fresno Republican.

Salmon. It is said, have made their way as far up as Obid. We hope this fish story may be true and that they will pay Auburn a visit. Salmon has gone beyond the reach of a poor man's pocket in these parts owing to the fish trust. We are advised to eat more fish and less meat owing to the difference in the cost and the necessity of meat for shipment to the allies and our own boys in foreign land. If there is any difference in the prices, fish is in the lead in the markets of Auburn.—Auburn Republican.

The Spencer M. Smith ranch, formerly the Hartwell ranch, was exchanged for Oakland property this week. The new owner, Rae P. Wil-lams, is about to start an up-to-date goat ranch. He has some of the most breeds of milk goats, which he will use for breeding purposes. Through publicity given by the government, goat milk is becoming one of the most valued foods for invalids and young children.—Hayward Journal.

AMAZING PREDICTIONS

Aerial navigation across the Atlantic ocean, New York to Berlin, is now a physical possibility.

This astounding statement is made without qualifications by the New York Herald on the authority of Major Perelli, of the special Italian commission for aeronautics in the United States; Rodman Wanamaker, tripplane builder Alan R. Hawley, president of the Aero Club of America; Glenn H. Curtiss and several other noted American inventors, as well as by several English, French and Italian aerial experts.

The machine declared capable of journeying in the air from New York to Berlin is the Caproni Italian tri-plane, tried out in this country, and designed by an American scientist discovery of how to tell aerial directions by radio waves. It is predicted that fleets of these triplanes will within a few months be streaming across the Atlantic ignoring and making futile and useless the dreaded
German submarines, mined harbors, forts and aerial defense guns, climbing high in air and dropping bombs
on German battleships, harbors, forts and armies, outstripping German planes and making German defeat a mathematical certainty. Of course these predictions are all uninitial,
government authorities are appropriately silent. But the New York Herald's informants are cited as authorities for the prophecies given.

Just when the triplanes will be constructed and ready for their annihilating work no one ventures to say beyond stating that it will come in the near future.

If the anticipations are half-realized the new triplane will revolutionize the whole art and practice

SANTA CLAUS VISITS A HOSPITAL.

We lost no time in setting to work and as case after case and bale after bale were unpacked, the kind gifts of friends in England and America
were heaped up on the empty beds and began to take on something of the look of a miniature mountain range with glittering cascades of tinsel rustling down their sides and colored balls in their valleys. Early now and then a convalescent Army in one of the blue and red hospital dressing
gowns, a little round cap on his head,
would flatten his nose even more than its wont against one of the window panes, or one of the blessed crutches, out for his morning airing,
would stomp cautiously up our boardwalk to peep in through a crack in the door. I think it was the eager look on these faces, so recently hag-garded and drawn with suffering, that first made me realize this was to be no ordinary festival. After the unpacking we had to take the nurses aside and get from each a list of her charges with, however slight, an indication of each man's tastes.—Red

CHAMLEON-LIKE.

"The all-devouring tyranny of Anglo-Americanism," is, according to Admiral von Tirpitz, what Germany is fighting against. First it was the "Slavic peril," then "British greed and trade jealousy," next "a place in the sun," soon after, "the freedom of the seas," and so on through a long list of ever-changing causes for hostility. The German sword. The trouble with the official German mouthpieces
is that they cannot agree on one reason for going to war and stick to it.—

put fresh heart into the whole Allied

in common with the hopes and prayers
of Christian hearts.—Baltimore

FATS FROM VEGETABLES.

An interesting Japanese industry has been developed in the extraction of vegetable fats. The yearly production of vegetable oils in Japan being valued at over 10,000,000 yen ($5-6,000,000). Refined vegetable wax is finding increasing demand in foreign markets, the value of exports now being some 1,700,000 yen annually.

The wax is used chiefly for polishing, making pomades and soaps, and for leather dressing. Most of it is taken from the hazel tree, peculiar to Japan.

The tree flowers in June, having yellow and white blossoms and produces fruit in September. The wax is extracted from the kernel, or nut, of this fruit. Only trees of fifteen years growth produce good nuts. The quantity of nuts increases with the age of the tree until, at the end of forty years, the maximum production of thirty to forty pounds is reached.

The best wax is made from nuts
that have been kept over the winter,
fresh nuts not producing good wax.
In fact the longer the nut is kept the better is the quality of the wax.

The manufacturing process consists of first crushing the nuts and placing them in receptacles holding some 150 pounds. They are then steamed for half an hour when the mass is put in presses and subjected to strain for about three hours. This product is again pressed so that the original 150 pounds of raw material produces only about sixteen pounds of wax. The product is next refined, the process
being peculiar to Japan, being the result of ages of experience rather than scientific evolution.

VESSELS OF COAST ARE IN DEMAND

While shippers are making a scramble for vessels of all type for Pacific trade and freight rates on many commodities have leaped to as high as double their former figures, big shipowners about the bay have started chartering sailing ships a year in advance to insure cargoes being moved. This situation, the result of the seizure by the government of the larger vessels on the Pacific for war work, has placed all small vessels at a premium. Smaller craft used in coast travel are to be placed on Australian and Oriental runs.

J. J. Moore & Co. has chartered eight vessels in advance for 1918, having taken over the Minnie E. Celina, the Crescent, the Taurus, the Harvester, the Aurora, the Thomas P. Emigh and the Oceana Vance.

The Standard Oil Company has taken over the schooner Planter from Walter Schuett of Oakland, the boat to carry case coal oil to Australia at $1.40 per case. George W. McVear & Co. has chartered the barkentine Amy Turner to load for Wellington, New Zealand, the trip to pay the owner $45,000. The schooner Fred Baxter has been chartered to load lumber on the Sound for Antofagasta.

Police Grand Ball For Local Red Cross Tonight

The service flag that is seen in the windows of so many American homes is now made on a smaller model and may be worn by the women folks whose men are in the army. This new idea is becoming popular and Red Cross workers are wearing the flags in honor of those who are serving at the front.

Patriotism will mingle with pleasure among the hundreds who will attend the grand ball of the Widows and Orphans' Aid Association of the police department at the Municipal Auditorium tonight in benefit of the Oakland chapter of the Red Cross.

Final arrangements have been made by the committees in charge and everything is ready for the first strains of the big orchestra. From 8 o'clock to 2 a. m. the dance program will continue. Interspersing the program will be a number of special entertainment features contributed from the local theaters and a number of surprises are promised by the committee on entertainment.

Commissioner F. F. Jackson, Chief of Police J. H. Nedderman, Captain Thorwald Brown and Mayor John L. Davis, with their partners, will lead the grand march. All of the boxes have been engaged and there will be hundreds of spectators in the balcony to witness the gay function. Red Cross nurses in uniform will assist in receiving the guests. A whole variety of pretty nurses from the hospitals of the east bay will be present. Inspector R. V. McSorley, chairman of the solicitations committee, reported today that the indications are the proceeds from the ball will equal that of any previous year, which is considered a good showing in view of the many contributions that have been asked of the public during the last few months owing to the war.

The entire net proceeds of the ball will be turned over to the local chapter of the Red Cross and will be used here to relieve the burdens on families left dependent by enlisted or drafted men. When the aid association first planned the annual ball this year the proposition of giving the proceeds to the Red Cross was immediately met with a ready response on the part of the members. They took the attitude that the great majority are going to stay at home and that they would be willing to sacrifice the funds this year to the more universal cause.

The aid association has purchased $30,000 of Liberty bonds.

FIREMEN IN PERIL WHEN MILL BURNS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Firemen belonging to Engine Company 28 narrowly escaped death this morning when the roof of the Albers Brothers Milling Company plant at Lombard and Montgomery streets fell as they were on it. The men were able to reach the coping and hang there until ladders could be thrown across a 20-foot chasm, and their rescue effected.

The fire, attributed to spontaneous combustion, totally destroyed the mill, causing a loss estimated at $150,000.

The third alarm, at 4:35 o'clock this morning, brought twelve companies and the fire boat David Stannell, the tire being confined at that time to the fourth floor of the mill. As engine company 28 reached the roof it fell carrying with it the elevator and machinery, which dropped through to the basement.

This is the third mysterious fire this month which has attacked the plants of corporations filling government contracts, and will be rigidly investigated by Chief Murphy on the theory that it had its origin in a pro-German plot, which belief was indicated by him in a letter to the Board of Supervisors Tuesday, asking for a restriction of the sale of phosphorus.

Phosphorus will ignite spontaneously on being exposed to the air, and it is the theory of Chief Murphy that phosphorus is being used to destroy plants throughout the country through being rolled into machines with paraffine, or being placed in tightly corked bottles, which after a time form a gas, bursting the bottle and throwing the burning phosphorus in all directions.

According to Superintendent Frank Albers, the loss by water in the warehouse proper cannot at this time be estimated, but the milling machinery will be difficult to replace under a year, and this will deal a severe blow to the operations of the Albers Company and the government contracts which they were filling.

LANDMARK CORNERSTONE DISAPPEARS

What has become of the cornerstone of Hamilton Hall, pioneer landmark of the city's early history, which has mysteriously disappeared with valuable documents, coins and other data of days gone by, sealed within its crypt? The building has just been wrecked by the Dolan Wrecking Company to make room for more modern structures. But when the bones of the aged building were laid bare to the sun, the great massive granite block, in which Dr. Florentine Hamilton, founder and pioneer minister of the city, sealed the records of its dedication, was found to have vanished like memories of long ago.

MEN OF NOTE THERE.

Men, famous in Oakland's later history, gathered around the cornerstone when it was formally dedicated back in the early 70's. Rev. Florentine Hamilton, himself a dissenter from the First Presbyterian church, was the nucleus of the little colony of independent thinkers. With him was David McCune, founder of McCune's Military Academy, Henry Durant, an early president of the University of California and once mayor of Oakland, and N. W. Spaulding, who also became mayor of the city. These men established Hamilton Hall and the church which it housed. Wilbur Walker, secretary of the Merchants' Exchange, and then a young man, was the first organist. The dedication was accomplished with great ceremony. Valuable papers were sealed in the cornerstone to be a message to generations of coming years of things that had been. Now the generations have come and the founders have gone—Rev. Dr. Hamilton dying on an Easter Sunday in his pulpit with his hand pointing toward Heaven—and the stone which was to have borne the message through all time, has dropped from sight.

LOSS IS MYSTERY.

Professor J. C. Gilson, principal of the Longfellow school, and for many years owner of the building, has sought in vain to find it. Workmen employed by the wrecking company have gone carefully through the wreckage to find the missing crypt without avail. The stone itself, like the message it contained, has faded from human ken without a trace of its going.

Has the granite casket been spirited away by some one who knew the secret mystery of the hidden chamber, or has the ruthless finger of Father Time reached out and smudged away all traces by which the stone might be picked from among its fellows in grim and wanton humor? The answer may rest within the stone itself if it is ever found.

TONIGHT At the Auditorium

Ah Yit, Chinese, Sets Own Sentence

ALAMEDA, Nov. 22.—Police Judge L. R. Weinmann and Ah Yit held a friendly conversation in the police court this morning, gravely debating how Ah Yit could serve a jail sentence without interfering too much with his business as a vegetable peddler. Ah Yit finally agreed to come back Saturday night and spend Saturday night and Sunday in jail, as he does not peddle vegetables in dirt watches of Saturday night or on the Sabbath. Ah Yit was nabbed for having the wares he peddles exposed to the elements instead of having them screened and covered, according to the latest fashions in food handling. At first he did not see any use in going to jail at all. "What for you send me to jail? What's the matter with his business as a vegetable peddler? Jail no good; no time to go jail. Ah Yit really agreed to come in jail. You let me go. Why not? No cost you anything. Finally the week-end sojourn in jail was agreed upon as a compromise, and Judge and Celestial parted firm friends.

CLASS B WINTER LEAGUERS TO MEET TO DECIDE PROTESTS

PERCY AND FERDIE—Much Verbosity—Little Cash

By H. A. MacGILL

Creator of the Hall-Room Boys.

Protested Games Will Be Class B Issue; Final List Of Players Must Be Filed

Lively Session at Jerry Lawlor's Clubrooms Promised Tonight.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

There promise to be some lively moments when the class B Winter League managers meet at 8 o'clock tonight at Jerry Lawlor's Arrival Clubrooms, at the southeast corner of Twenty-sixth and San Pablo, and "Hustling" Jerry asks that all managers be on hand. The first thing to be brought up will be the protests which the Vit Grays and Maxwell Hardware teams have filed.

The Maxwells protest a game played two weeks ago with the Crystal Laundry, who failed to have nine men on the field in full uniform. Joe Vitt, manager of the Grays, protests that the Melrose Merchants failed to remain on the ball ground for the fifteen minutes which the league rules require in the event that the umpire calls time for rain. Vitt claims that within five minutes after time was called by the umpire the rain had stopped and the umpire ordered the players back to the field and there were only three Melrose men in playing uniform, while the full roster of the Grays were ready to play.

FINAL PLAYER LISTS.
The final list of players for class B teams must be turned into Jerry Lawlor at tonight's meeting, which means that all managers who wish to enter their teams with the addition of new men must have the signed contracts of these new players turned in before the meeting closes. This means that the teams must make their final list of players with the players whose names are turned in tonight, as no other player can be added to the roster unless another member of the club is called in the draft.

President Lawlor intends to make it a rule that only one umpire is to officiate at each game and that umpires must be the one appointed by Lawlor. Should this umpire fail to put in an appearance in time for the start of the game it will be up to the managers of the teams scheduled to play the game to select a substitute.

In the past a regular league umpire was sent out to umpire each game and the visiting teams would always want to put in an umpire of their own and as a result there were always disputes over decisions.

Official scorers will probably be chosen, as in some cases the scorers of the two teams playing have trouble in agreeing on some plays. In order to prevent any confusion in publishing the averages and box scores Lawlor is in favor of having an official scorer at each game.

Names of all players who are to play in the class A division Sunday must be handed into Jerry Lawlor tonight, but next week and those following they must be handed in on the Wednesday previous to the game.

Cliff Blankenship has signed Clarence Brooks for the Maryland Bowlers and Ratter, the San Francisco recruit, will be released. Ratter is a promising youngster, but Blankenship has found that the class A race is going to be such a tough proposition that he figures he needs all the second men he can get. With Dole and Brooks as his catchers, Blankenship will have as good a catching staff as there is in the league.

Brooks has been working at Richmond where he went for the winter before. Otto Dietrich pulled the bloomer Brooks like several other ball players thought. Now that Richmond is not in the league, Brooks is looking for a job around this section and may land in one of the shipyards.

The case of Brooks is but one of several cases that lead one to wonder where Richmond will be in the baseball world next year if Dietrich tries to lead the club again. All of the summer players figured in would stick in last year and 16 in the Winter league. When he fell down, the players started to drift away and the comment they make on the Richmond situation does not promise much for a Richmond ball club another year.

Of course, there is the possibility of somebody else taking hold of the club there. Dick Greenhouse was put in the last year with the fans by Dietrich, and Dick has about squared himself and all the fans know that he was not to blame for the Richmond bloomer. Greenhouse is a great ball player and has had a lot of fun coming in from games.

There's nothing slow about Cliff Blankenship's methods of traveling around the country for the Winter league games. The Maryland Bowlers made the trip to Crockett in autos and they will travel the same way to Pittsburg Sunday. The machines carrying the players will leave the Maryland Bowling alleys about 11 o'clock Sunday morning, and with reports of good roads all the way and an easy two hour run, there are several fans around town who have told Cliff they would be on hand with machines to accompany the team. So it looks as though there would be quite a delegation journey to Pittsburg.

Hack Miller's chances of playing in the Winter league are still fairly good. Herb Remmer and Fred Krumb may yet reach an agreement and if they do, the other managers will probably readily approve it. For although Hack pulled a bloomer in his jump after having told Remmer he would play with him, there are no managers, players or fans who want to see him barred for the whole season.

Notice the new pep that Rod Murphy is showing these days. Rod hears the wedding bells ringing off in the distance. He expects to be called to Camp Lewis about the middle of February and is planning to slide home at the altar about the middle of January. In the meantime Rod is holding down a job at Cliff Blankenship's place and is calling all the boys to witness that he is on his good behavior.

Fred Krumb expects to take a good delegation of Alameda fans to Crockett Sunday. The Alameda squad will leave the Southern Pacific Sixteenth street depot at 10:10 Sunday morning, and the stories of the great times that Crockett fans give their visitors are making all the boys look forward to a big day. Krumb's team has not yet won a game in the class A race, but Babe Hollis has pitched two great games only to have the breaks go against him, and the fans are still loyal to their club.

Western League May Cut Down to Six Clubs

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 22.—Whether the Western baseball league is to continue next season as a six or eight club circuit will be determined at a meeting in St. Joseph, Mo., next month, preliminary to the annual schedule meeting to be held here in January. Denver and Sioux City are said to be uncertain of continuing in the league.

CUBS GET FAST FIELDS.

(CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—The Chicago Cubs will have two of the speediest outfielders in the game next season, when Bob Turner, from the Baltimore club of the International league, and Leslie Mann step into the center garden. It is said to be nearly certain that Mann will return to the team.

Exemption For Major Leaguers Will Be Asked

Ban Johnson Wants Government to Guarantee Enough Men for Games.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Not a minor league in the country will be able to start the season of 1918, in the opinion of Ban Johnson, president of the American League. Johnson told the United Press today that the loss of players through military service and lack of patronage through draft and interest in military affairs will render it impossible for any but the major leagues to survive next year.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Ban Johnson stands alone with his statement that he will ask the government to exempt eighteen ball players on each major league club in this country. The National League will ask no such special favor.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Ban Johnson, president of the American League, will ask the War Department to grant exemption from military service to eighteen men on each of the sixteen major league clubs in order that baseball may continue during the war.

Johnson said that while about 10 percent of the major league players are eligible to the draft so far as age is concerned, a majority of them will come under class five in the new classification, because of dependents or physical effects. So a request that eighteen men on each club be exempted will not be asking much of the War Department, Ban thinks.

"The government wants the big leagues to open in 1918 and therefore I am confident that I will get some sort of a compromise that will permit the sport," said Johnson.

With eighteen players to a team I am sure we can maintain the standard of the game. If I thought other men could

Danny Shay Is Freed by Jury In Murder Case

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 22.—Dan Shay, former Alameda baseball manager, was found not guilty of murder in the second degree for shooting to death Clarence Howell, a negro left waiter, by a jury in federal court today.

Shay was charged with the murder of Howell after the 1917 game last year. The case was tried in federal court and a jury was sworn to try the case.

Shay's per was $2,000. He was released on $10,000 bond and will be free to leave the city.

Stanford and Santa Clara Teams Ready

Hard Practice Work Is Stopped by Rugby Teams Which Meet Saturday.

Stanford and Santa Clara rugby teams ended their intensive practice today, when each of the teams took a hard workout on the Stanford turf, where the game will be played. The Stanford boys took their usual allotted time in the morning for a stiff practice game against the second string men. Coach Wylie worked mainly with his backfield, where he expects the battle to be won. If it is won by Stanford, while the Stanford pack of forwards is admitted to be weaker than the Santa Clara bunch, Wylie is relying on the old Stanford right to pull them through. Then with "Dink" Templeton's great boot and a well-oiled backfield, the Cardinals will have a hard bunch to beat.

Coach Von Maderscheid gave his men a two-hour session on the Stanford field in the afternoon, and while the practice was a secret one, it must have been pretty hard from the looks of more than a score of tired players who came out of the field after it was over. With the long practice session the Santa Clara boys have had, they have had no need for development of team work during the last week or so. Von has been giving them just hard work until today. This afternoon he plans to give the boys some light running exercises to keep the squad in shape.

WYLIE PLANNING TRICKS.
The Stanford team will work today and although it will be a light practice, Coach Wylie will give his men some hard drilling in backfield work and on lineout tricks. Wylie is a veteran at rugby, and probably knows more tricks than any rugby man in the country, so the fans are expecting some new wrinkles in the game at Palo Alto Saturday.

The official lineups which were announced this morning are practically the same as those forecasted in the TRIB-UNE earlier in the week.

The Trainers of the California team will take a hard workout since the game last Saturday on California field this afternoon. The long rest was occasioned by the opinion of Coach Smith that his boys were going stale in their training. In the east, where Smith has coached before, the season is a month shorter and he did not have to take precautions against the players becoming languid. With their very first game against the Cardinals, the enthusiasm of the men naturally subsided after the big game against Washington. Their two starts since then have shown that in a manner of speaking, the boys are in a rut.

Whether "Red" Hansen, the scrappy little center of the Bears, and one of the most valuable men on the team, will be able to play against the University of Southern California on Thanksgiving day has not yet been settled. Hansen's bruised leg is from his head and the injury may keep him out of the game against the Trojans. Outside of Hansen, the whole U. C. squad will report at practice today.

BABES HAVE GREAT RECORD.
The complete statistics of the University of California freshmen team show that the 1917 team made 218 points against their opponents' thirty-two during the season.

Other largest score was 61 to 0 against the Mare Island hospital team, while their next biggest was against the Nevada boys 40 to 0. They went unbeaten throughout the entire season.

Many alumni believe that the success of next year's varsity team is assured by the class of the freshmen this year. If Uncle Sam does not call out all the youngsters who started for the '21 class.

Grizzlies Are Beaten by a Forward Pass
SAN DIEGO, Nov. 22.—The football team of the University of California defeated the team of the 14th field artillery, or "California Grizzlies," by a score of 10 to 0. A forward pass for 20 yards gave the infantrymen their chance for a touchdown. The Grizzlies once had the ball within 5 yards of the infantry goal, but lost it on a fumble.

The infantry team on Thanksgiving day will meet the Utah artillery eleven for the "Cannon Kearnay" championship.

NO TENNIS RATING.
Owing to the fact that Dr. Summer Hardy, president of the California Lawn Tennis association, announces there will be no tennis rating of the players this season, the tennis matches were run off, but only as friendly events.

OLYMPIC CLUB RED CROSS BOXING TOURNNEY OPENS TONIGHT

National Amateur Fight Champions Entered For Big Elimination Tourney

Over Twenty Bouts Tonight For Opening of Big Boxing Program

Four national champions, all of them soldiers, and a number of minor title holders are to participate in the international amateur boxing tournament to be held in the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco tonight and tomorrow night for the benefit of the Red Cross. Talent from all parts of the United States and Canada will appear, approximately twelve of the largest cities and a host of smaller towns having sent entries.

The four champions are J. C. Tomasz of Tarrytown, N. Y., who holds the national bantamweight title; Tom Murphy of Kansas City, national lightweight champion; Earl Baird of Seattle, national 125-pound champion; Eugene Brousseau of Montreal, Canada, and United States middleweight champion. In addition, Charles Picca of Vancouver Island, bantamweight champion; and William Cordie, welterweight champion of Vancouver Island and Western Canada; Charles Martin, the Canadian lightweight champion; and Baptiste Thodou, welterweight champion of Vancouver Island and Western Canada, will appear in the elimination rounds.

Four men teams have been sent by the Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland and the Seattle Athletic Club. These men hold the Far West and Pacific Northwest titles. The Los Angeles Athletic Club will be represented by three fast fighters, and the San Francisco Athletic Club by Eugene Van Court, prominent in California as a boxing expert.

Formidable entries are on hand from various military camps. Corporal Johnny Stanton, lightweight champion of the Pacific Coast, is here from Camp Kearny, Indio, Calif. The Pacific Coast reservation here has eleven men in the running, while the marine camps at Mare Island and Sausalito, and the Coast Guard, are well represented.

Baird, the national 125-pound champion, comes from Camp Anaconda, Mont. Tomasz comes from New York camp. Brousseau belongs to a camp in Montreal, while Murphy belongs to a camp in Oklahoma.

The gross receipts of the two nights of sport will go to the Red Cross, the Olympic Club of San Francisco paying all the expenses, which are estimated at $5000 or over. Each bout is for three rounds with the referee calling an extra round if he deems it necessary.

Eight weights will be covered, the bantamweight of 108 pounds, featherweight of 115 pounds, special weight of 125 pounds, lightweight of 135 pounds, welterweight of 145 pounds, middleweight of 160 pounds, light heavyweight of 175 pounds and heavyweight of more than 175 pounds. Two judges will pass on each fight. If they decide on the same man that man will win the fight. If they disagree the referee will decide. If the referee is in doubt he will order an extra round.

The Universities of California and Stanford also have men entered in the tourney.

Much interest centers around Charles Picca, the Vancouver Island bantamweight champion. He is but 18 years of age, but is as quick as a flash and shows a ruggedness and stamina that are amazing.

The bouts will be conducted under strict Amateur Athletic Association rules. Each winner will receive a medal.

Ten-Round Bouts to Be Held in Camp

Military Reservation Outside the Jurisdiction of California Boxing Law.

Ten, eight and six-round bouts will be seen in California on the evening of November 23. The State law permitting only four-round encounters will be given the overlook and the promoters say that not a word will be said or an arm lifted to arouse them.

This is possible because Camp Fremont, a military reservation over which the State has no jurisdiction, will be the scene of the distance boxing contests. The matchmaker has gone right ahead pairing the opponents, and expects to have a banner crowd at the ringside.

The contests between soldiers in Uncle Sam's army are announced as follows:

Battling Mend vs. Harry White, 133 pounds, ten rounds.
Mickey Gorman vs. Young Sharkey, 160 pounds, eight rounds.
Del Hawkins vs. Jimmy Moran, 135 pounds, six rounds.

Two four-round events will complete the program.

Jake Stahl Is the Winner in A Slow Battle

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 22. — Jake Stahl was given the decision over Monk Fowler in a rather slow four-round boxing contest held here last night.

Red Crow had a shade over Eddie Huse but the judges thought a draw would be about right. Jay Romero and Soldier Lilley staged a hammer and tongs affair which was declared a draw.

In the Price Burton-Kid Tyson mill, Burton injured his right hand in the third and was prohibited from continuing the bout by the management and the police. The judges declared Burton the winner.

Veteran baseball writers covering the world's series formed a new organization during the series. It is composed of men who have been writing baseball for at least fifteen continuous years. Out of some fifty or sixty who were on the job during the series but seventeen were found eligible for membership in the new organization of "Deans." Charley Dryden was elected supreme dean. He started writing baseball in 1894. Sam Crane was elected to edit about the game in 1890, was elected super dean. The Deans will meet again in Philadelphia in 1918, so it is announced, but whether they expect to see a world's series in the Quaker City is not stated.

California Is Favorite Over Stanford at Soccer

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 22. University of California and Stanford meet each other on the soccer field of this campus Saturday morning in the first of the annual intercollegiate soccer games between the rival universities. This will be a big feature of the Saturday sport calendar on this campus, the main attraction, of course, being the intercollegiate rugby game between Stanford and Santa Clara university.

California's "orange" team contains a number of veterans, while Stanford's is made up largely of new men, only three veterans, Captain Roney, Drury and Yewell, having returned to college this fall.

LUMINOUS DOG SHINES WHEN HE IS FULLY FED

The famous "Bong with a luminous nose" has nothing on Colorado Maduro, Mexican hairless dog, for he has a luminous appetite.

It all happened like this: Colorado shivering and sneezing like all of his kind, went forth in search of food and came upon a pocket flashlight, the property of Fred Boegle, of the Chamber of Commerce. Illogically reasoning a relation between a cur and a pungent odor, he ate the thing and retired to a corner for a nap.

As the shades of night were falling fast, Boegle awakened his little charge and handed it a real meal—one fat frankfurter. The dog ate and was happy. He was so happy he wagged his tail and glowed—ACTUALLY GLOWED. Boegle declares that he turned off all the lights in the office and that the dog shone out like a parlor lamp. He says the little thing's ribs showed through its illuminated sides like an animated X-ray and that the light dog cast was so strong that one could count the ink spots on the floor.

The explanation is simple enough. Whenever that dog eats the food presses against the button on the flashlight and he is internally, and soberly, illuminated.

SAVING OF COAL URGED IN STATE

Federal Fuel Administrator Albert E. Schwabacher of the United States Fuel Administration, has sent out a circular to the general public dealing with the necessity for fuel conservation in California as an extreme war measure. The circular, which is addressed to the "Citizens of California," calls attention to the fact that every available pound of fuel must be used by this country and the allies.

California, according to the fuel administration, is confronted with a critical situation through railroad congestion due to troop movements and the handling of government war supplies, which prevents coal being brought in in quantities. Approximately 50 per cent of the state's fuel comes from Utah and Wyoming fields, and the transportation limitations have materially cut down on these shipments.

Among the various things which the fuel administration asks the people of the state to do is the following:

Not to use coal for heating purposes unless the house temperature is below 60 degrees.

To burn wood wherever possible.

To use oil stoves or heaters when it is necessary to keep certain parts of the house at a special temperature.

To reduce the coal used in the stoves. Do your cooking at one part of the day. Use wood wherever possible.

To be economical with gas and with electricity where it is generated by coal or oil-using plants.

Not to burn coal in an open grate, for in such practice 75 per cent of the heat goes up the chimney.

Not to heat every room. Close off spare rooms. Most people would be healthier if they slept in cold bedrooms.

The times call for more than usual skill and care in putting coal into stoves and furnaces.

Berkeley High Switches To American Football as Predicted in The Tribune

First Step taken in Movement to Discard Rugby in the Bay Schools.

Bearing out the prediction in The TRIBUNE a few days ago, Berkeley high students have voted to play the American football game in the future. Rugby goes into the discard. At a formal vote last night, the students voted, 47 to 1, in favor of the American game.

The TRIBUNE published the story last Saturday that Berkeley high school would probably switch from Rugby to football next year, and also ventured the prediction that such a move on the part of Berkeley high would probably start a movement which will swing all the bay high schools into line for the American game.

Berkeley high has made good on the predicted switch, and already the students of other high schools in Alameda county are talking of following suit. The Alameda county athletic league officials have been inclined to oppose the change and they made the announcement last week that the schools would continue to play Rugby. But it did not take long to prove this announcement unpopular among the students, and it now remains to be seen whether the league officials will try to block the students in their desired change.

Other schools around the bay are already making plans for informal American football teams, and if the schools are forced to continue with Rugby as their official game there will at least be plenty of informal football teams in the other schools to meet Berkeley high. The feeling is so strong among the students that it does not seem probable that Rugby can be continued as the official league game, and one by one the Alameda and San Francisco school bodies are now expected to fall into line behind Berkeley.

ALL-STAR GAME PLANS. The big all-star rugby game between picked teams from Alameda county high schools and San Francisco high schools will take place at Ewing Field, San Francisco, on December 8. The proceeds of the contest will be equally divided between the Red Cross organizations of both sides of the bay.

The Alameda county team has been picked by the coaches of the high school teams on this side of the bay, and will begin workouts within a week.

With both teams having ample time to prepare for the big contest, the game this year should be the greatest since the custom of having an all-star game between the two sides of the bay started several years ago. In the past the teams have been selected and have gone into play with little practice together. This year it is arranged to put the boys under the direction of Coach Blesse, pilot of the champion Fremont high school team. The San Francisco all-stars will be picked by the coaches of the San Francisco league and will also start practice next week. That the Alameda county boys will have an advantage on the practice is certain, for the champion team of San Francisco, Lick-Wilmerding is yet in the race for state championship honors.

FLANNIGAN TO REFEREE.

Pete Flannigan has been announced as referee for the big game, and other officials will be evenly divided between the representatives of both sides of the bay. Overin of Lowell high school, Hunter of San Francisco Polytechnic, Book of Oakland and Rittler of Alameda are arranging the details of the big game. The admission price has been set at 15 cents, all of which will go to the Red Cross. In past years the boys have received gold footballs for their efforts in the game, but this year they will all risk life and limb for the Red Cross.

VALLEJO TO MEET DIXON.

Vallejo High and Dixon will clash in the sixth game of the Solano County Athletic League basketball series in Vallejo tomorrow evening. Vallejo is leading the league with five victories and no defeats.

Society

Again has the social set of Oakland and Alameda been taken by surprise with the announcement through cards this morning of the betrothal of Miss Louise Gimbal of this city and Warren Francis Sanford of Alameda. This is the second engagement announced within a short while in the Gimbal family, Miss Mildred Gimbal being the fiancée of Edwin Griswold, brother of Mrs. Charles Monroe (General) of New York.

Miss Louise Gimbal is the daughter of Louis Gimbal and the late Mrs. Gimbal. She attended the University of California and was a member of the Phi Beta Phi sorority.

Her fiancé is a graduate of the University of California and is a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity and member of the Skull and Kears honor society.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sanford of Alameda.

Warren Sanford is with the signal corps, U. S. A., at Linda Vista, so that plans for the marriage of the couple are as yet indefinite.

Edwin Griswold, the fiancé of Miss Mildred Gimbal, is stationed at Long Island, New York, with the signal corps concentration camp. Miss Gimbal is a graduate of Miss Harper's school for girls at Palo Alto.

Within a fortnight invitations to the number of 200 will be extended by Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Baxter of Piedmont, for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Baxter, and Gardiner Pond, for Wednesday evening, December 19. The ceremony will be read by the grandfather of the bridegroom, Mr. W. C. Pond of San Francisco, before a large company of friends of both families. The marriage is to be solemnized at 9 o'clock in the evening at the Plymouth Congregational church in this city, where so many of the younger belles of previous seasons have exchanged their nuptial vows. A reception for the immediate relatives and closest friends will be held at the Baxter home after the reading of the service.

Miss Baxter has chosen to be her attendants upon that date, her sister, Miss Alice Baxter, as maid of honor, and two bridesmaids, Miss Consuelo Osgood, and Miss Florence Bogart. Howard Baxter is to be best man at his sister's wedding while the bride will be given in marriage by her father, A. A. Baxter.

Several infamy affairs are yet to be given for the bride-elect before her wedding date, for she has been entertained extensively since the announcement of her betrothal. She is a graduate of Miss Merriam's school.

Gardiner Pond is the son of Dr. and Mrs. James Haven Pond of East Oakland, and comes from one of the older families of the bay cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Allard have sent out invitations for a dancing party Friday evening, December 14, which they will give at Ebelle clubhouse in honor of their daughter, Miss Marion Allard, who is celebrating her twentieth birthday.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bred in Piedmont a delightful dancing party is to be given for the daughter of the house, Miss Florence Bred. The invitations read for Saturday evening, December 1, when more than a hundred of the debutante set are to be guests.

For the benefit of the Alameda Girls Training home, a tea will be given Saturday from 2 to 5 o'clock. The guests are requested to bring some donation to the home either in the form of groceries or clothing of which there is great need. The arrangements for the tea are being made by the board of managers who are: Mrs. McKee Sherrard, Mrs. A. Agnew, Mrs. Burton, Mrs. A. O. Gott, Mrs. C. Wendland, and Mrs. L. C. Ashley.

Judge and Mrs. Frank B. Ogden entertained a group of friends at cards Friday evening last at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Russell Cooley. The Ogden's are now staying at the Ogden's home, since Mr. Ogden is shortly to leave for Arizona to reside. Among those assembled Friday evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tyson, Mr. and Mrs. John Perrine, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Manuel, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leach, Mr. and Mrs. George Roach, Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Osgood, Mr. P. F. Abbott, Mrs. W. V. Montgomery and Dr. and Mrs. Fraser.

At the Charity hall at the Fairmont hotel in San Francisco Saturday evening next, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Folger are planning to entertain in honor of their niece, Miss Alice Claire Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Francis Smith. Miss Smith is a graduate of the Menlo Park convent, where her sister, the Misses Folger, are students.

Still another dancing party for the school set is that which Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hamilton will give for their young daughter, Miss Wilhelmina Brown, Saturday evening, when about thirty guests will be present. After the dancing a supper will be served the guests.

In honor of Miss Frances Whitesell of Los Angeles, who while in the bay section has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sanford, a party will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sanford, Saturday evening, December 15, when more than a hundred of the debutante set are to be guests.

Holiday Dinners Can Be Hooverized; Here Are the Recipes For the Menus

BY CHARLOTTE P. EBBETS.

Director of Home Economics for the United States Food Administration for California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Three of America's most important holidays fast approaching will test the loyal adherence of Californians to the government's comprehensive plans for staple food saving necessitated by the exigencies of war.

With Thanksgiving but a week away and the holiday season only a "whoop and a holler" behind that, housewives throughout the country are laying plans and specifications for tempting dinners to entertain their families and friends.

We all know what a leading part food plays in the demonstration of affection. Food will amply testify to the love and affection of the hostess. One almost measures up the degree of appreciation of this affectionate regard by the type of dinner we can present. No effort seems too great; no time is poorly spent in culinary preparation; sacrifices of material and money count for little if we can gather about the board the loved ones who will show their measure of appreciation of the good things offered.

THE DOCTOR'S STORY.

But, after all, what a story the doctors have to tell through this same holiday season, of ailments and sufferings, of the price one pays in possible suffering and discomfort for a waste of good material? Could not one have the same cheer without so much effort on the part of the provider and less temptation to over-indulgence by the guests? However, if we still think it one's privilege to gorge and pay the price in physical discomfort, let us look at the situation from another and more vital standpoint.

Our country is a war-torn one. We are a nation of young men, boys by shot and shell and disease. Are we to contribute to their hardships by lavish expenditure of the very source of life—the food which keeps the tissue cells alive and the body in action—are we to be sensible, patriotic citizens of the United States, willing to break away from traditional customs and plan our dinners according to the food conservation aims of our government?

Let us look our Thanksgiving dinner and see if we cannot plan an abundant and appetizing menu distinguished by the elimination of those staples so badly needed by our soldiers and those of our allies, who are fighting with us for the preservation of civilization and democracy.

We can commence with a cream soup-meat, for stock must be conserved—with crackers of some sort. Then the main course, in which the meat is conserved, is the place of honor. Or there is the roast chicken, duck, or, as Dr. Caroline Cook says in her "Hints to Housewives," the rabbit or hare.

SAVING SUGAR.

But what are we to do about the cranberry jelly, so important an adjunct to Mr. Turkey? Alas, alas! Too much sugar is needed for this tasty delicacy. Nevertheless, if we must have cranberry jelly, we may substitute brown for white and use but one-half the quantity.

serve that current or apple jelly put up last summer.

Oyster or chestnut "stuffing" may be substituted for the old-fashioned kind that uses up so much bread; there are plenty of recipes for this stuffing, but for dessert what better than ice cream. "Ice creamless" Thursday, the food administration says, will be dispensed with for Thanksgiving day. Or we may have mince pie, the mincemeat made according to the English recipe, containing no meat; or pumpkin pie, where molasses or brown sugar may be substituted for white sugar, or plum pudding made without eggs.

We will now arrange three menus, each sufficiently abundant and "balanced" to give full food value, without infringing on food administration regulations.

THREE MENUS.

Cream of Celery soup, Cheese Straws, Roast Turkey with Cranberry Sauce (no sugar), Olives, Mashed Potato, Creamed Cauliflower.

Mrs. J. Walter Scott and who will return south Monday next, several informal affairs are to be given the week-end. Miss Whitesell was one of the bride party at the marriage of Miss Adele Scott and Frank Rother this month. Members of the bride party are to party at a dinner party at the Palace Hotel Saturday evening, the party to be chaperoned by Mrs. Scott. Miss Whitesell is to be the guest of honor. The following day Miss Helen Mehrmann will entertain with a dinner at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Mehrmann.

Those who are to be guests at both affairs are Miss Muriel Zahn, Miss Helen Mehrmann, Miss Rosalind Cassidy, Miss Carol Purdie, Miss Frances Whitesell, Gaylord Mitchell, Paul Rolter, Walter Reed, Sheridan Hubbard, Lincoln Wilson and Trace Harmon.

More than $100 was cleared at the benefit knitting tea given at the home of Mrs. Robert Watt in Presidio Terrace, San Francisco, Tuesday afternoon and the proceeds divided between the free kindergarten and the Christmas kits for the soldiers. There was a "knitting race" for the best hot chestnut biscuits and toasted home-made brown bread.

For those who played bridge tables were placed and the prizes for the winners were the dearest of silk or satin bags. The knitting race was won by Mrs. J. O. Miller, Mrs. Donald York Campbell, Mrs. O. F. Olsen and Mrs. Henry Gracy.

Assisting Mrs. Watt to receive were Mrs. C. O. G. Miller, Mrs. Donald York Campbell, Mrs. O. F. Olsen and Mrs. Henry Gracy.

Mrs. J. Parker will entertain at a knitting bee Friday afternoon at her home on Central avenue, Alameda. The affair will be in honor of Miss Edna Foley and Mrs. Dora Carew, who are visiting Mrs. Parker's niece, Miss Edward Clawiter of San Francisco, from Yountsview, Calif.

Knitting for the Red Cross will be the occupation of the afternoon, with a tea following. Mrs. Parker's guests will be: Mrs. Joseph R. Knowland, Mrs. Dora Carew, Mrs. Edward Clawiter, Miss Edna Foley, Mrs. Franklin Dwyer, Mrs. Hermann Krust, Mrs. Walter Parkhurst, Miss Belle Garrett, Mrs. Albert Albrecht of San Francisco and Mrs. Cyrus O'Neil.

SOME RECIPES.

Recipes for certain dishes incorporated in above menus:

Turkey Stuffing—One cup rice, one dozen French chestnuts, one-quarter cup Celery, one-half cup raisins, one-quarter cup each of salt, paprika and ground cinnamon. Wash the rice and cook until half done in boiling salted water; drain, add the entire ingredients, the chestnuts, which have been cooked and cut into small pieces, the almonds blanched and chopped.

Turkey Stuffing (St. James)—Chop together the liver of the turkey and one small onion; stir these in a saucepan over the fire, but do not brown, for about ten minutes, then mix the contents into a pound of sausage meat. When thoroughly mixed add about two dozen whole chestnuts which have been shelled, blanched and cooked until tender in boiling salted water.

(Either of these recipes will conserve bread, usually the foundation of stuffing.)

Mince Meat Without Meat (English style)—Four pounds green tomatoes, chopped fine, skins on; 6 pounds apples, chopped fine, two pounds seeded raisins, one-half pound currants, two pounds brown sugar, one pound citron, orange or lemon peel, or about five ounces, and fifteen ounces Sultana raisins, one-half teaspoonful each ground cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves and salt, one cup hot water, one pound suet, one quart bottled cider or fruit juice. Use small tomatoes and drain over night in a cloth. Cook in syrup made with sage and water for one hour. Add cider, boil one-half hour, then add the other ingredients. Boil one-half hour, then seal while hot in sterile glass jars to keep.

Pumpkin Pie Filling—Use either squash or pumpkin. Chop thoroughly, then add the required amount needed for number of pies desired. About three-quarters of cup per pie. Put through a colander, add two eggs partly beaten, one-half pint milk, one-half teaspoonful each ginger, cinnamon, nutmeg and salt. Sweeten with molasses or brown sugar.
